Emergency Medical Care:

Prompt service will be obtained in emergency situations by calling 911. If it is not an emergency, but the child is hurt, proper first aid attention will be given. The parent will be notified, if need be, by the director.

All cost of emergency care is the responsibility of the parent. By signing the information verification forms at the end of the handbook, the parent agrees to pay these costs and also hold harmless the center, its staff, and its agents for any illnesses, injuries or treatment thereof.

Personal Belongings:

Children should not bring personal toys to the program. Before and After Care program is not responsible for any damaged or missing toys. All extra clothing needs to be marked with the child's name.

Child Guidance Practices:

When discipline problems arise, the child will be talked to using positive statements (ex: that is a block, it is used for building. As opposed to Don't throw the blocks.) If the problem is not resolved by simple, positive redirection, the child may be removed from the activity to "time-out" (no more than one minute per year of the child's age), during which time the child can regain their control and reflect on the problem. At the end of the time out, the staff will discuss with the child their behavior, why it is a problem, options, consequences and choices. For example: "I understand that you were angry with Jimmy. What are some things you could do when you are angry?" All possibilities will be examined and consequences discussed. "You could hit. We're not allowed to hit here, though so you are in time out. You could use words to tell Jimmy that you are mad and why; maybe you could work it out. You could ask a staff to help, etc. What would be a good choice next time?" Positive/good decisions will be praised whenever possible.

A Behavior Reports will be completed when the behavior hurts other children, adults or property or is dangerous to the child's wellbeing. A parent will be required to sign the Behavior Report. The parent will be given a copy of the report. A child who is destructive or hurting themselves or others may be asked to stay home for a period of time. This will be clearly stated on the Behavior Report. Temporary removal from the program will only be used when safety is an issue. The goal of this program is to teach each child self-control and personal responsibility.

The Hollis Park District's Before and After Care program is in the building of the Illini Bluffs School District which is mandated by state law to report any suspected cases of child abuse or neglect to the appropriate authorities for investigations.

Release and Withdraw

The Before and After Care program reserves the right to release your child from the program if we determine the program does not meet your child's needs or that your child is unduly hindering the other children's opportunities in the program. This will only occur in extreme situations in which we feel that the child cannot benefit from the program. Parents will be given two (2) week's notice if this situation occurs and assistance in finding a more suitable environment.
